Our harvest and our henhouse

In the garden of our Hotel, we have a small orchard that allows us to offer fresh, locally sourced ingredients in our cuisine. In the parking area, we also have our small henhouse.

It is not only about offering you fresh, quality ingredients, but also embracing a philosophy of sustainability. By growing our own products and raising our hens responsibly, we reduce our carbon footprint and support sustainable farming practices.

The space, though small, can contribute to accompanying activities and events committed to these values we share.

We have a strong commitment to sustainability and environmental protection. We believe that every small action matters.
